Narrow Fluctuations in Stock Market Follow Extreme Speculative Lethargy

TRADING NOT GUIDED BY NEWS OR RUMORS

Developments of Either Favorable or Depressing Nature Were Conspicuous for Their Absence.

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.-The stock market today was as close to stagnation as it was possible to have been without a complete suspension of business. De-mand and supply both came almost to a stop. Naturally such an apathetic state of affairs resulted in extremely narrow fluctuations, and many issues were no quoted in the first hour.

There was no revival of the disturb ing rumors of yesterday, and the actual iews developments were not sufficiently important to influence values. Specu lators appeared to be waiting for som cue from Amalgamated Copper, but that stock fluctuated within a ¼ range. New York Air Brake sold up four points. Westinghouse opened down 4%. The general list showed only fractional changes of no importance, but with the rather larger number of issues Shove yesterday's final level.

Government bonds were unchanged.

Railroad bonds were firmer.

The market opened without snap. Prices were somewhat lower, but not as much as London showed. Amalgamated Copper was fairly well supported at a ¼ Southern Pacific lost the most-%. Steels opened unchanged and Atchison developed some firmness. There was con siderable trading in Reading, which President James W. Ellsworth, of the Ellsworth Coal Company, of Ellsworth, Pa., conferred yesterday with officials of the Department of Justice over the allegations that his company has violated the contract labor laws by importing Weish miners. He urged the department to investigate the facts thoroughly before beginning proceedings, as he said there was no ground for prosecution. He said he had nothing to do with the firm of Jones Bros., of South Wales, who induced the miners to come to this country.
